

D. Trevegno Dies From Stroke

WAS FATHER OF MRS. HARRY CONNINE

It was shocking news to learn that Mr. D. Trevegno, of Cadillac, father of Mrs. Harry Connine, had died at the family home Tuesday morning. He and Mrs. Trevegno and Mr. and Mrs. Lesch of Texas, had spent the week end with the former's daughter, Mrs. Connine, and left early Monday for Cadillac.

Mr. Trevegno stopped at a number of business places between here and Houghton Lake and while at the latter place became violently ill. No medical aid was available but after a couple of hours rest he was able to proceed. It was believed that at Lake City he suffered a stroke.

Upon arrival at Cadillac physicians pronounced his case as very serious and said there was little or no hope for him to rally. He passed away at about 5:00 o'clock Tuesday morning. Funeral services were held at Cadillac and burial in Traverse City today.

Mr. Trevegno was born in Naples, Italy in 1870 and came to this country with his parents while a small boy, and resided in Evart and Mt. Pleasant. He was married in Evart on December 4th, 1889 to Miss Letty Dunning. He engaged in business in Evart and was also associated with the Harris Milling Co., there, and continued with this company for forty years and at the time of his death was a district sales manager. The family moved to Cadillac 19 years ago which has since been their home.

Mr. Trevegno had been a member of Mt. Pleasant Masonic lodge for 40 years. He is survived by the widow and daughter Mrs. Harry (Louise) Connine; a son, M. M. Trevegno of Lansing, and two half brothers, Joseph and Michael Blasi of Detroit. Also grandchildren Letty Lou and Menehin Trevegno and Mary Gretchen Connine.

Mr. and Mrs. Trevegno had been coming to Grayling for many years and almost seemed to have a part in our community. Just to know Mr. Trevegno was a pleasure. Coupled with his keen business characteristics, he radiated a cheer and pleasantness that was contagious. His brown eyes would twinkle and he always had a smile that will long be remembered by his friends. To him, home ties were very dear, and his passing leaves many sad hearts. Mrs. Trevegno and others of his family have the sincere sympathy of their many Grayling friends.

TALKS ON JUVENILE CRIME

Mr. Stanley J. Patterson, assistant prosecuting attorney of Pontiac, was the guest speaker at the Kiwanis club meeting Wednesday. He related his experiences in dealing with juvenile crime. He said that of all the law violations he abhors that of the drunken driver more than any others, and would use his influence in sending him to prison. He considers such a person a menace to society and a danger while on the highways.

There was nearly a 100% attendance of members present and also a large number of visiting Kiwanians and other guests.

Next Sunday will occur the annual Kiwanis Canoe carnival picnic down the AuSable river. This will terminate at Edgewater resort, of which Mrs. John Knecht is the manager. Anyone wishing to take part in this event may do so by notifying Holger F. Peterson.

GOTHRO FUNERAL HELD FRIDAY

Michelson Memorial church was filled to its capacity Friday afternoon when funeral services for Herbert J. Gothro were held. Mr. Gothro passed away on Tuesday following a lingering illness. In respect to the deceased who had long been a business man of Grayling, and had also served as city treasurer for two years, the business places were closed during the hours of the funeral. The church was decorated with flowers, all symbols of sympathy of hosts of friends.

Rev. H. W. Kuhlman delivered a very impressive sermon, and during the service Mrs. Roy Milnes and Mrs. Harold Jarmin, accompanied by Mrs. C. G. Clippert, sang, "The Lord's Prayer" and "Sweet Hour of Prayer." Pallbearers were close friends of the deceased, Frank Barney, of Lewiston, Samuel Rasmussen, C. J. McNamara, Axel Peterson, Otto Failing, Ralph Hanna, of Traverse City. Local barbers were honorary pallbearers. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

Following are those from out-of-town who were in attendance at the last rites: Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bensinger and daughter Barbara Lee, Don Jennings, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Gothro and son Philip, East Jordan; Mrs. L. N. McDougall, Mr. and Mrs. Murry King and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Hennigar, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Hennigar, Gerald Hennigar, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stover, Detroit; George Hennigar and daughter Beulah, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hennigar of Port Huron; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Hennigar and daughter Nancy, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hennigar, Mrs. Hilda Plough, Mrs. Elmer Swenson, Renaldo Trigger, Oscoda; Mr. and Mrs. William Van Schoick, Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kelly, Akron, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Kelly, Standish; Mrs. Cletus T. Pierre and daughter Betty, Battle Creek; Harry Reynolds, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hanna, Traverse City; Mrs. Reno O'Kelly and son Gordon, Miss Rhoda Denmore, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barney, Lewiston; Mrs. A. C. McKinnon, Atlanta; Mrs. John Gohl, Hillman; Mrs. A. J. Edgar, Chicago.

COUNTING DEER IN HANSON GAME REFUGE

Two areas in which deer drives will be made have been marked out in the Hanson Game Refuge by CCC enrollees from Camp Kalkaska. Tallies of the deer will be made once a month until fall.

The same areas, each about a mile square, probably will be used next year and for that reason the markings were made as permanent as possible. Picket lines were run, 10 rods apart, through the area and wherever trees occurred on or close to the lines they were marked with white paint. This method is expected to aid in providing straight lines for the enrollees to follow during the census drive, thus preventing gaps through which deer might flee uncounted.

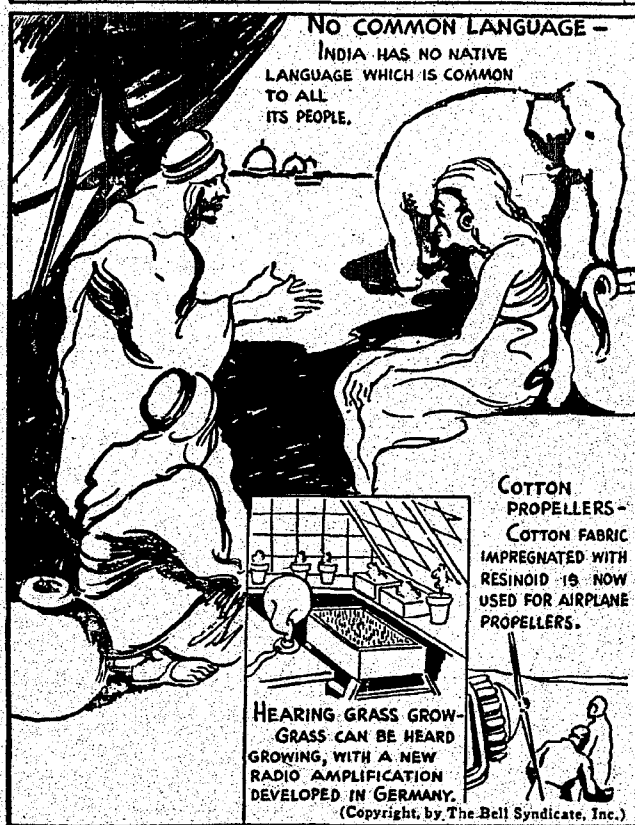

The tally is taken by enrollees crossing the section about six rods apart in a long line extending nearly entirely across the area. Each enrollee counts the deer which cross the line between him and the enrollee on his right.

The census drives furnish data regarding deer population, feeding and migration. Last year the enrollees noticed that the animals have become so used to being counted that they merely move out of the section ahead of the drivers and may be seen returning before the boys are loaded on the trucks to leave.

The Michigan Mirror

Non-partisan News Letter
Michigan Press Association
By GENE ALLEMAN

Lansing—Humorously called "Michigan's greatest show," the two-ring state legislature will convene here next Monday (Aug. 29), to appropriate between eight and ten million dollars for relief.

The main ring, the house of representatives, is expected to go through its tricks to the crack of Whip-master George Schroeder.

In the smaller ring, the senate, the administration may encounter trouble in the tie strength of democrats and republicans. Leo J. Nowicki, lieutenant governor, will preside with customary independence and dignity.

The special session is not expected to last more than three days. Coming so close to the primary election, it cannot drag along much more than this, as many legislators are candidates for re-election and are busy campaigning for votes.

Many Sideshows

While more money for jobless welfare, extension of the mortgage moratorium and revamping of the state housing act are due to occupy the legislators' attention, according to the governor's official call, yet it is conceded that there will be several interesting sideshows to provide front page copy for campaigning legislators.

For example, take the appointment of Richard T. Frankenstein, ousted U.A.W. vice-president, to the state welfare board.

Frankenstein was removed from the U.A.W. board after Homer Martin fired him for alleged communistic favoritism and activity. State Senator Robert Burns, Detroit Democrat, has demanded that the governor relieve Frankenstein of the appointment. At Jackson the American Legion post went on record in protest.

Republican Feud

All may appear serene on the surface, but both parties in Michigan are having "family rows."

Among the Republicans it is the Toy-Fitzgerald feud which is becoming hotter every day. Fitzgerald charges his opponent as being anti-labor, while Toy declares that "McKayism" is the real issue. When newspapermen phoned the Grand Rapids republican leader to give his views, he professed ignorance about it all and said that he had seen Toy only a few weeks before at the office of the Ford Motor company—a sly attempt to connect Toy with the automobile manufacturer.

The family row prompted James E. Davidson, national committeeman, to appeal over the radio for party harmony.

Comstock Haunts

Except for the Nowicki-Schroeder contest for lieutenant governor, the Democratic primary is going to be painless.

For a while it looked as if Governor Murphy would have opposition. Murray D. Van Wagoner, highway commissioner, was on the fence. Former Gov. William A. Comstock, Mayor George Welsh of Grand Rapids and others tried to push Van Wagoner into the arena.

Even Nowicki himself was cool towards the governor, due to the latter's alleged favoritism to the C.I.O.

Van Wagoner finally declined to make the sacrifice. Comstock then announced he would run against Murphy in November as a Jeffersonian Democrat. He hasn't the slightest idea of winning, but he hopes fondly to get enough votes to defeat Murphy.

Yes, both parties have their troubles.

One-Man State Fair

Michigan's state fair at Detroit, a 16-day event which opens this Saturday (Aug. 27), continues to be remarkable in more ways than one.

Frank Isbey, general manager, accepts no salary.

He examines every expenditure whether it be for a nickel pencil or for the $5,000 neon sign on Woodward avenue. He makes all decisions of importance.

Last year the fair attendance increased over 100 per cent. This year, with an extra week's showing, the state event may establish an all-time record. Isbey, a Detroit, goes in for entertainment in a big way—dance bands, radio and movie stars, Hollywood girls and the rest. A novel attraction this year will be "The Holy Land," an animated replica of Jerusalem.

Soaring Gliders

Miles of sand beach and steady winds from the west have combined to create picturesque sand dunes along the east shores of Lake Michigan.

Next Sunday at Frankfort the dunes will be the scene of a national gliding meet, sponsored by the American Soaring society. Motorless airplanes will soar into the skies, borne aloft on westerly winds as they rise in crossing the dunes. Distance flights are achieved by using a succession of updrafts.

It's a brand new sporting attraction for Michigan.

Large Crowd To See Traverse C. Thrillers

Traverse City, Mich., Aug. 24—The largest crowds that have ever attended any event in this section is certain to be on hand when B. Ward Beam's International Congress of Daredevils, the crashing, smashing, racing combination of automobile and Motorcycle Thrillers better known as the 12 Greatest Thrillers on Earth appears at the Northwestern Michigan Fair, Traverse City, Tuesday afternoon and night only August 30th.

The whole countryside has been talking of this great attraction for weeks and preparations are complete for handling an enormous crowd.

There will be 12 thrillers in all, jumping a stock auto over four other autos; a Head-on collision between two autos each speeding at 40 miles an hour; rolling a stock auto over and over at 60 miles an hour, the driver staying at the wheel; Crashing four motorcycles through four flaming board walls; jumping off a car at sixty miles an hour and sliding through a blazing inferno placed on the race track; Using a fearless stunt man as a human battering ram and crashing him through a solid board wall; Motorcycle balloon bursting contest; Wreck-om Race, where four stock cars are smashed, crashed and wrecked; Jumping a motorcycle six feet in the air and through a flaming house; Four men doing thrilling stunts on a high rigging mounted on a moving motorcycle; Jumping an auto six feet into the air and through a solid board wall packed with excelsior and saturated with flaming gasoline, and other thrillers.

The thrill show will be staged rain or shine.

State Fair Aug. 27th To Sept. 11th

The 1938 Michigan State Fair is not only going to be "bigger and better" than the state has ever enjoyed, but it is the ambition of Frank N. Isbey, General Manager, to make it the "Nation's Greatest State Fair." That is the slogan that has been adopted and every member of the executive staff is bending all efforts to see that this goal is achieved.

There will be more stars of the stage, screen and radio; more free attractions; more brass bands; more outstanding features of an educational nature; and more facilities for the general comfort of visitors than ever before at any Michigan Fair.

Five of radio's greatest bands are to be heard at the Fair. They are: Rudy Vallee and his "Connecticut Yankees" with Garry Gould, Chick Kennedy, Edna Strong, and The Gentlemen Songsters; Benny Goodman, "The King of Swing," and his orchestra with Martha Tilton, Jess Stacy, Harry James, and Dave Tough; Buddy Rogers and his Hollywoodites with Jack "Screw" Douglas, and Bob Hanson; Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians including Carmen, Victor and Lebert Lombardo and the Lombardo Trio; the Kay Kyser and his "Kollege of Musical Knowledge" with Virginia Simms, Harry Babbitt, "Ish Kabibble" and Sully Mason.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter have announced the engagement of their daughter Miss Effie Flint, to Mr. Wendell Geister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Geister, of Clio, Mich.

The wedding will be solemnized on Saturday evening September 3rd, at 6:00 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will hold open house from 8:00 until 10:00 o'clock, for friends of the bride and groom.

YOUNGER SET ENJOY SUPPER PARTY

Ralph Routier of Detroit was host to twelve of his friends at a supper party Sunday evening to honor Miss Eleanor Pino of Detroit.

The party was given at the summer home of the host's grandmother, Mrs. H. A. Bauman, where he is a house guest.

Guests included, besides the guest of honor, Mary Gretchen Connine, Gail Welsh, Marian McClanahan, Jean Michelson, Bill Joseph, Tom Welsh, John Michelson, Wayne Nellist, Fred Welsh.

MISS ELIZABETH JEROME HONOR GUEST AT A PRE-NUP TIAL SHOWER

Mrs. A. E. Mason of Detroit was hostess at a very beautiful tea and miscellaneous shower for Miss Elizabeth Jerome of Pontiac whose marriage to Mr. Donald Ballman will take place in November, Saturday afternoon at her summer home at Lake Margrethe.

Among the lovely shower gifts was a handkerchief presented by her grand mother Mrs. C. T. Jerome. The handkerchief was carried by Miss Jerome's great grandmother and mother on their wedding day.

The "Tea" table was most exquisite with its long graceful flower arrangement of white gladioli and baby breath in a white flower bowl and lighted white candles in white candlesticks. Mrs. Esbern Hanson and Miss Jayne Keyport poured. Mrs. Carl J. Bauer Jr. presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Richard Snyder assisted the hostess.

Out of town guests included Mrs. C. T. Jerome, Miss Virginia Spence of Pontiac; Miss Nancy Scallen of Detroit; Mrs. Alfred Hermann of Grand Rapids; Mrs. Lorane Sparkes, Lansing; Mrs. Richard Snyder, Mrs. Henry Wilcox, Mrs. Carl J. Bauer Jr., of Saginaw and Mrs. Esbern Hanson Jr. of Mt. Pleasant.

Saturday evening Mrs. Mason entertained the young people at a supper party. There were eighteen present and the evening was spent playing various games.

State Med. Society Meeting In Detroit

Katharine F. Lenroot, Washington, D. C., Chief of the Children's Bureau, will be guest speaker at the Michigan State Medical Society convention in Detroit, September 20, 21, 22, 1938. Miss Lenroot will speak on Thursday morning, September 22, at 11:30 o'clock in the Book-Cadillac Hotel. Her subject will be "Federal and State Cooperation in Maternal and Child Health Service."

"All the forty-eight states are cooperating with the Children's Bureau, through their State Departments of Health, in the extension and improvement of maternal and child health services, in diagnostic treatment and also in after-care services for crippled children," says Miss Lenroot. "Under the Federal aid program, authorized by the Social Security Act, the official state agencies, in consultation with representatives of the medical profession and other interested groups, are bringing to mothers and children, especially in rural areas and small cities, expert medical advice and public health nursing, nutrition, dental health, school health, immunization and health education service. Likewise, state agencies responsible for services for the restoration of crippled children to useful lives are aided to develop a program in which due attention is given to the physical and social problems with which these children are confronted. Experience in Michigan under the crippled and afflicted children's acts affords an unusually broad field for analysis and demonstration of how public services for the medical care of children can best be organized."

A total of fifty-two speakers of national renown in the field of medicine and surgery will appear on the Scientific Program of the Michigan State Medical Society during the three-day convention. It is anticipated that two thousand physicians of Michigan, their wives and families, will convene in Detroit for the Seventy-Third Annual Convention of their association.

MICHELSON MEMORIAL CHURCH

HOME EXTENSION GROUPS ENJOYED PICNIC

Some 100 women, members of the County Home Economic Extension groups and their children enjoyed a picnic at Hartwick Memorial Pines park Thursday, leaving for the park at 12:00 o'clock noon. Picnic dinners were spread on tables that are placed in the shade of beautiful Norways, and each group planned their own picnic lunch and ate together.

After the lunch baskets were packed away the ladies went to the Hartwick memorial building for their afternoon meeting, which was opened by group singing led by Mrs. June Underwood, who was an invited guest.

Mrs. A. C. Leng, general chairman of Crawford County groups, presided at the meeting and introduced Miss Alice Hertzler who in turn called on Mrs. Earl Broadbent and Mrs. Rudolph Feldhauser who gave reports of Farm Women's Week at East Lansing, which they attended recently. This was followed by a selection by the "Kitchen band," when a group of ladies marched around the room making a lot of noise on pots and pans.

Miss Hertzler began formulating plans for the fall work and announced that the first leaders meeting was scheduled for Sept. 28. At this time she also announced that she would be leaving this district, having been transferred to Alcona county. This announcement was received with a lot of regret by the ladies as Miss Hertzler has been a general favorite among them, having worked untiringly in organizing groups in Home Economic Extension work in Otsego and Crawford counties, and taking a keen interest in each and every group.

Last year the project was Home Furnishings, and the members during the season were taught by her to make braided, crocheted and hooked rugs at a minimum of expense. Those who visited the Achievement Day display realize that Miss Hertzler was a fine instructor. A rising vote of thanks was given in her behalf, and Miss Hertzler responded graciously saying that she had enjoyed working with the ladies very much.

During the afternoon the groups were favored with two selections beautifully played by Mrs. June Underwood on her Hawaiian guitar. The first was a waltz number and she responded to an encore with a catchy air.

Owing to the county recreational chairman being absent, a couple of impromptu games were enjoyed, and the afternoon closed with a picture being taken of the group on the veranda of the Memorial building.

ENTERTAIN WITH SUPPER PARTY

Some thirty-two friends of Mrs. Marius Hanson, Holger Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cliff responded to an invitation to a supper party at the summer home of Mrs. Hanson at Lake Margrethe Sunday evening.

The attractive buffet service table was centered by a large bouquet of vari-colored gladioli and baby breath.

Seven tables of contract were in play following the supper. High honor scores were held by Mrs. Olaf Michelson and Mr. Wilhelm Raae, while low scores were held by Mrs. C. R. Keyport and Col. Leroy Pierson.

Mrs. C. T. Jerome of Pontiac and Col. and Mrs. Leroy Pierson and Charles Pierson of Lansing were out of town guests.

After this date I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife, Mary L. Hummel.

It is with very sincere appreciation that we wish to acknowledge the many acts of kindness during the illness of our husband and father, and for the beautiful expressions of sympathy at his passing.

Mrs. C. Stillwagon returned Wednesday. She was accompanied by Mrs. James Husted, Ruth Stillwagon and Margaret Douglas.

Miss Mable Redhead left Monday for Grand Rapids where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Seymour, after which she will leave for Colorado to resume her teaching duties for another year.

Some drivers insist on doing foolish stunts day in and day out although they know better. Some of these stunts are staged during the worst kind of weather.

One night during a severe thunder storm when driving conditions were bad, rain was falling in torrents, and visibility was poor, driver after driver passed me on curves and hills.

Hurry to get home, worry over open windows and curtains getting wet, and fear that the new carpet would get soaked by the rain—these and many other silly reasons are frequently given for the haste and violation of all traffic rules which endangers the drivers' lives as well as the lives of others.

Such drivers are just plain fools. They simply will not, or do not want to learn; therefore, the law should take action and revoke their drivers' licenses until they learn how to drive.

Indians Credit Dunes to Giant Breed of Turtles

Indian legends include a Paul Bunyanesque story of the origin of the sand dunes of Lake Michigan.

Shortly after the glacier retreated after gouging its way down over Michigan two large turtles, as tall as a ten-story building, emerged from the big lake near St. Joseph. They found the smooth sandy beach much to their liking and ranged as far south as New Buffalo in search of food, reveals a writer in the Detroit Free Press.

The swale near New Buffalo was the place they turned around on the south end of their trip and the Grand Mere just below the House of David was the turntable for the other end.

They mated and buried their eggs in the warm sand to hatch. When they returned they discovered that the nest had been broken into and the eggs eaten by bears. The next nest of eggs they buried under a great mound of sand, the first dune, and then, surveying their handiwork, decided that the pile of sand would certainly lead any marauders right to the eggs. So they built several decoy mounds.

As time went on their offspring built more and more mounds to hide their eggs, and so the dunes from the Indiana line to the straits came into being.

But food became more and more scarce and the turtles became smaller and smaller, until the land turtle, about the size of a man's hand, was all that was left.

In support of the Indian legend was the discovery near St. Joseph, little more than a hundred years ago, of a turtle shell measuring 14 feet long and 12 feet across. Inside the shell was the skeleton of a human.

GOOD GOING

The village policeman was passing the local inn when, noting that it was well past closing time, he saw a man still sitting in the bar.

He went to the proprietor and remonstrated.

"That man should be outside," he said.

"Yes," replied the proprietor, "but I can't get him out."

"I'll soon see about that," replied the constable, promptly, and pitched the unfortunate man out.

"Thanks," replied the boss. "I've been trying to get him out for a long time. You see, he's the ballist."

Tit-Bits Magazine.

Big Heart

A well known attorney was always lecturing his office boy, whether he needed it or not. One day he chanced to hear the following conversation between the boy and the one employed next door:

"How much does your chief pay you?" asked the latter.

"I get $1,500 a year. Five dollars a week in cash and the rest in legal advice!"—The Improvement Era.

Appropriate Resting Place

Water—Did you say you wanted the eggs turned over, sir?

Dinner—Yes—to the Museum of Natural History.—Stray Stories Magazine.

NO CHANCE FOR SCANDAL

Teacher—You have been absent three days without an excuse. How do you account for it?

Tommy—I was afraid if I come steady they'd think you was my sweetie an' that'd start talk.

One Way Out

It was at a high school banquet. The speaker of the evening droned on and on, until it seemed he never ended. Finally Fred gave up, and began to nod at his plate. Embarrassed, the class president tapped him sharply on the head to wake him up. Fred groaned:

"Hit me harder," he said. "I can still hear him."

Comeback

"Papa!" called little Sally, "the furniture man is here."

"Be there in a minute, dear. Tell him to take a chair."

"I did, papa," called Sally again, "but he said he'd start with the radio and studio couch."

Quite a Job

"Ah, good mornin', Mrs. Murphy, and how is everythin'?"

"Sure, an' I'm havin' a great time of it between me husband and the fire. If I keep me eye on the wan, the other is sure to go out."—Providence Journal.

The Right Answer?

"Will you tell me why low dresses are called 'full dress'?" "For the same reason, I suppose, that a plucked chicken is called a dressed chicken."—Pathfinder Magazine.

Even

"If I'd known what sort of person was at the other side of the door I wouldn't have answered the bell!"

"If I'd known, lady, I wouldn't have rung it."—Providence Journal.

MORE AND MORE

"He is what I call a hog."

"Yes, his motto seems to be 'Get everything and keep more than you get.'"

Misunderstood

Mr. Brown, the proud father of newly born triplets, rang up the local newspaper to report the glad tidings. The girl at the other end did not quite hear what he said.

"Will you repeat that?" she asked.

"No fear," was the answer, "not if I can help it."

One Way to Look at It

Boss—For a man with no experience you ask high wages.

Applicant—Well, sir, it's much harder work when you don't know anything about it.—Stray Stories Magazine.

Tricky Tides of Fundy Provide Unusual Sight

The tricky tides of the Bay of Fundy present a spectacular "double performance" each day. Their 40-foot ebb and flow completely changes the appearance of the sharply indented shore line and gives rise to such oddities as an "island" reached by a highway, waterfalls which reverse their direction, and fishing, done not from boats, but from ox carts, notes a correspondent in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Just across the border between Maine and New Brunswick is Minster's island, 12 miles from St. Andrews-by-the-sea. At high tide the last half-mile of the journey must be negotiated by taking a boat across an inlet 30 feet deep, but low tide lays bare a pebbly sea bottom.

Seventy miles up the coast is New Brunswick's port, Saint John, where the Saint John river drops down a narrow gorge in step-like falls to join the bay—"drops down," that is, except at high tide when surging Fundy rushes up the canyon and sends the river in scurrying retreat. Hence the name, Reversing falls.

Burial of Custer's Men
An article published by "an eyewitness" describing the burial of Custer's men (June 28, 1876) says: "Early in the morning of the twenty-eighth, all troops, except those left to care for the wounded of Reno's force, repaired to the battlefield and buried the dead of Custer's column, and as few tools were available, and the ground baked hard, interment was not complete in all cases. Custer was buried beneath a huge mound, and an attempt was made to mark the graves of identified officers and enlisted men. In all 212 bodies were buried where they fell."

Thought and Language

In its broadest sense language is any means of expressing thought, and this would include the sounds made by a baby or by a dog, observes a writer in the Detroit News. Only the very simplest of thoughts can be expressed without words, though musical composers, mathematicians and others have their own ways of expressing thought by music, figures and letters, etc. Language had to be evolved in some way or other. Possibly the language of the most primitive man consisted largely of gestures and cries or grunts, but this is mere speculation.

Ventriloquists, "Belly Speakers"

Once it was believed ventriloquists produced voices in their stomachs. Hence their title, from two Latin words meaning "belly speakers." Actually they form words in the usual manner but with special control of breathing throat, mouth, lips and tongue. Anyone with healthy vocal organs can learn the trick, asserts a writer in the Washington Post. Ancient people were masters of ventriloquism. Through the art, it's believed, they made their statues of pagan gods speak.

Guarding the Inca Capital

Guarding Cuzco, the Inca empire's capital, is the cleverly planned and skillfully constructed gigantic fortress of Sacsahuaman, with immense stones fitted together like pillows, without the use of mortar or cement. Cuzco is a medieval Spanish city built on the ruins of the buildings of the ancient capital. Inca stonework is topped with stucco residences built with balconies and gridded windows.

Ozone Holds Ultra-Violet Rays
Tests carried out by the British meteorological office show that if all the ozone in the atmosphere were collected near the earth's surface it would form a layer only two or three millimeters thick. Ozone is particularly health-imparting, as it holds the ultra-violet radiations from the sun.

Roger Williams Refused To Yield to Persecution

Refusing to submit to the religious persecution of early Seventeenth century days in England, Roger Williams, a young Puritan minister, came to the New England colonies.

Even here, however, he found an absence of the freedom which he sought and his years of preaching in the Salem settlement of Massachusetts were marked by his open opposition to "compulsory taxation to support the church, the forcing of people to drop everything and go to church every time the town bell rang." He protested, also, the action of the English crown in giving away land which he contended rightfully belonged to the Indians.

The persistence of Williams in teaching this strange new doctrine aroused the indignation of leaders of the Salem settlement and eventually resulted in Roger being banished from the village, relates Leslie Hartley in the Washington Star. Leaving hastily without his family, Williams headed south to a refuge with his friends, the Indian tribe called the Narragansetts, who lived along the shores of the bay named after them.

Here he continued his preaching and was joined by his family and a few friends, the little colony buying land from the Indians. In 1644 Williams obtained a charter from England and the settlement of Providence became known for its tolerance and freedom from religious bigotry. Eventually it became known as the state of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, smallest, but one of the most independent states in the Union.

'Mad Anthony' Wayne Is Buried in Pennsylvania

Although Pennsylvania has two graves of "Mad Anthony" Wayne, he still remains a shadowy figure of the Revolutionary war to many Americans. History writers in the main have failed to provide many details about him, notwithstanding the fact that he was one of Washington's most colorful generals.

He was the son of a Chester county farmer and lies buried, officially, in Old St. David's churchyard, Devon, observes a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer. Not far away is the land his father tilled. Still closer is the community which bears his name.

His original grave, still decorated as such, is on Presque Isle, on the shore of Lake Erie, where he died from an old war wound in the leg. "Bury me at the foot of the flag-staff," he said, and that was where he was laid to rest. At that time he was commander-in-chief of the United States army.

In 1809, 13 years after his death, his family had his remains removed to Old St. David's. Approximately 100 years later—in 1908 to be exact—the state erected a statue in his memory at Valley Forge.

Cave Lighted by Glowworms

One of the wonders of New Zealand is the Waitomo cave in the province of Auckland. It is rich in stalactite and stalagmite formations, and is lighted not by naked lights or electricity, but by millions of glowworms, says London Tit-Bits Magazine. Hundreds of people visit the cave every year for a glimpse of this amazing sight, for the insects line the roof and do not twinkle. Silence is enforced, as the noise of speech has the effect of making them switch off—a natural protective instinct. Glowworms and fireflies are, of course, plentiful in all tropic regions, where it is sometimes possible to read a newspaper by the light they give. In India "shikaris" (hunters) often stick them on the foresight of a rifle for night shooting.

Oldest Part of North America

Gaspe is reputed to be the oldest known part of North America and historians say it had been visited by adventurous white men from Iceland and Greenland as early as the Twelfth century. Many parts of the coast are noted for their rugged grandeur and one of the scenic marvels is the giant rock at Percé, where the herring gull and the cormorant breed and have bred for hundreds of years. The birds of this part of the Gaspe coast are a study in themselves.

Have Many Tropical Names

On the nautical map of the Virgin Islands the names of land and water formations spell the tropics—simple, alluring, remote—as: Pringle bay, Compass point, Whistling chair, Lagoon point, Mermals chair, Rendezvous bay, Flamingo point, Limetree bay, Chocolate hole, Cinnamon bay, Watermelon bay, Prune bay, Grapefruit bay, Sugar bay, Ramogot bay, Cowpet bay, Lizard rock, Hogsnest point, Shark Island, Ram head and Turtleback rock.

Marijuana Long in Use

In Asia Minor and India, where its influence first was felt, priests 3,000 years ago used various forms of marijuana to induce religious frenzy. It was not until 1845 that a French doctor made a detailed study of its effects and the relation between "hashish" excess and insanity. Since then, use of the weed has spread over the entire world. In the United States, "killers for hire" smoke a "muggle" or two to bolster their nerve.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 1938

Dr. M. R. Slattery of Bay City has had a cabin built at Shaw's Park on the AuSable.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnow Hanson have moved from their cottage at Lake Margrethe into their home on Peninsular avenue, and are getting nicely settled.

Teddy Stephan, Jay Stephan, Jack Redhead Jr., Bob Skingley and Marx Stephan enjoyed a two day camping trip on the AuSable from Sunday to Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Borchers, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Souders, and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Peterson enjoyed a camping trip down the AuSable from Friday to Sunday.

Aileen Ann is the name of the daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Horning Thursday morning. This makes three girls and two boys in the Horning family.

The election issues in Michigan this year are greater than political issues. They must not be allowed to stand in the way of the restoration of sound and decent government.

Miss Eva Madsen entertained the Junior Aid Thursday evening. After a short and interesting story by Rev. Stockholm and the business of the meeting was taken care of, lunch was served.

The County Treasurer's office will be closed Friday and Saturday of this week, however those who wish to take care of their taxes on the installment plan will have until Sept. 3rd inclusive to do so.

Yvette Stephan entertained at a canoeing party Tuesday, the girls going as far as the mouth of the north branch of the AuSable at Redheads. The guests included Margaret Bloetcher, of Detroit, Norma Vallad, and Arlene Laage.

Dr. Gary Campbell, ophthalmologist, will be in Crawford county, beginning Friday, August 26, to care for children's eyes, qualified under the Children's Fund program. Doctor Campbell comes from the Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Mrs. John Dye of Miami, Fla., arrived in Grayling Friday to spend a few days with old friends. Mr. Dye at one time was salesman for the Burke Garage, local Ford dealers. The Dyes resided here several years and have many friends in Grayling.

Tiny's Permanents are $2.50; $3.50; $4.00; $5.00 and $6.00. This includes Shampoo, Haircut and Fingerwave afterwards.

Mrs. Alfred Hanson is ill at her home.

Women's new Fall Shoes, in all colors, are arriving daily at Olsons.

Miss Fern Armstrong is enjoying a week's vacation from her duties at the Grayling Mercantile Co. store.

Albert Lewis who has been ill in a hospital in Marquette is reported improving, and has returned to his home at Big Bay.

The Ladies Aid will meet Friday, Sept. 2nd at 1 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Olaf Michelson at Lake Margrethe. Pot luck.

Guests at the James Lynch home during the week were, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schroeder, Mrs. Fred Waldbauer and children, of Bay City, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Underwood, of Mt. Forest, Mr. and Mrs. Del Lindsay and children of Detroit.

Several copies of the Summer edition of the Michigan State highway maps were received Saturday from the State Highway department. Of course they contain the very latest Michigan highway information. They are free for the asking as long as they last.

Grayling Merchants base ball team will cross bats with the fast team at Mackinac Island next Sunday. It is expected that quite a number will be going along with the team and spend a day at the island. The locals defeated the Mancelona team last Sunday by a score of 18 to 3.

So many folks had made other plans for Sunday and the week end that the number attending the Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star picnic Sunday was comparatively small. There were some 24 in number gathered at the tourist park at the Hanson Military reservation however and spent an enjoyable afternoon.

This year's game law digest, published annually by the department of conservation for distribution to hunters will be printed in a new style. Last year the digest was a 20-page booklet. This year it will be a folder, similar to the state's fishing law digest, with six panels or 12 pages. One million copies are being printed.

Several ladies dropped in on Mrs. Marie Hanson Monday afternoon to remind her of her birthday anniversary on that day. The afternoon was spent visiting after which the hostess served a delicious lunch. Guests from out of town were, Mrs. W. Weaver, and daughter Marilyn, Mrs. Alfred Larson, and two children, Mrs. Bryson, all of Johannesburg, and Mrs. Carl Madsen of Gaylord.

Joie Kernosky, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kernosky was injured Saturday, when he accidentally fell out of the seat of a moving truck, driven by Junior Lovely. The accident happened near the Frank Milliken farm in Beaver Creek, when the door of the truck flew open. The child was taken to Mercy Hospital, where he remained until Tuesday night. Luckily there were no bones broken, but the lad is nursing some bad burns and bruises.

Amos Hunter, Roy and Calvin McEvers, and Melvin Marshall enjoyed a fishing trip at Big Bay for a few days, returning Wednesday morning. They fished in the different lakes and streams about Big Bay. Roy and Melvin returned Tuesday evening while Amos and Calvin missed the boat at St. Ignace and were left by the rest of the party to hitchhike their way to Grayling Wednesday morning. The only reason Roy says that he can think of, for their missing the boat, was because they must have been making a Big Front.—Contributed.

Miss Merle Covey, bookkeeper at Burke's Garage, getting into her car on leaving the garage one day last week received a bad scare when something seemed to explode in the motor. Thereupon she called Mechanic Fred Lamm and after he had given his OK, which meant that the car was in perfect condition, she got back into the seat again. Backing out carefully something blew up again, this time near one of the tires. This time she lost less time in getting out, when it dawned on her that she was the victim of one of those jokes that the mechanics at the garage are always playing. The mechanics always have a big supply of bombs on hand to help initiate new help, especially lady help.

Mr. Russell Griswald, of Connecticut, is in the city in the interest of promoting winter sports. He met with the Winter Sports committee last night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McManus, of Chicago, are spending this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Flower. Last Sunday they also enjoyed spending the day at Mackinac Island.

Mrs. Holger Schmidt was hostess to a group of ladies Tuesday afternoon honoring Mrs. Frank Schmidt. The afternoon was spent sewing, and delicious refreshments enjoyed.

See the new school shoes for children, at Olsons.

Mr. and Mrs. George Olson were in Detroit Tuesday and while there George took part in a golf tournament at the Variety club and won second prize. He received a radio and three golf balls for his success. He had a score of 81.

Attending the 20th annual state convention of the American Legion held in Battle Creek, beginning Saturday and closing Tuesday, were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Martin and Alfred Hanson. Mrs. Martin attended as a delegate from the Women's Auxiliary. The Herman Bidvia family were alarmed Wednesday noon when smoke filled the house and began oozing out from around the foundation. Calling the city fire department it was discovered that there was a short circuit in some electric wiring under the house and the insulation burning off of it, caused the smoke. There was no damage.

Miss Anna Nielsen was guest of honor at a party given by Miss Margrethe Hemmingsen at her home Friday evening. The evening was spent playing bridge, with Mrs. A. J. Nelson and Miss Olga Nielsen holding high and low score, and Miss Anna Nielsen receiving the guest prize. The hostess served a lovely lunch later in the evening.

Paul Hendrickson has taken over the sales management for the "Alumnote Auto Radiator Life Saver", a stop-leak substance that is claimed to stop leaks in auto radiators and cracked cylinder blocks. Paul has always done a good job in everything he has taken up, and, with an article that has merit, he is sure to make a good success as sales manager.

An automobile driven by Charles Giragosian, accompanied by his wife and daughter Hysmig, of Detroit, was damaged late Thursday afternoon when the car left the pavement and turned over as they were making the curve on US-27, near the National Log Construction Co. Fire ensued and Grayling City Fire department was called to the scene. After the flames were extinguished the family continued on their way to Detroit.

Kind of Feet on Birds

Told by Their Habits

One can tell the kind of feet a particular bird has by knowing its habits. For the feet of birds are almost as important to them as their wings, writes a St. Louis Globe-Democrat correspondent.

The duck's feet are webbed because it must have good paddles to push the water when it swims. Otherwise, it would be as poor a swimmer as a hen.

The robin has a foot much like the ordinary chicken. His foot has three toes in front, the center one a little longer than the others, and a rather long, strong toe behind. Because he scratches for most of his food, his front toes are fitted with sharp toenails which can tear at the hardest ground. The back toe is held in reserve, for when a cat or any other annoying enemy comes along, the robin is obliged to abandon his search for worms and cling to a safe, high branch.

Woodpeckers have two toes in front and two behind. Consequently they hobble awkwardly on the ground, like some old man with corns on his feet. But in the trees, where they're reasonably comfortable, they're quicker than almost any other bird at hanging to the skinniest branches and getting through the thickest leaves.

The cassowary and ostrich, tall birds that are surprisingly good runners, have the strangest feet of any. The foot of the ostrich has only two toes. He hasn't any use for the back toe because he doesn't climb trees. And for running, the back toe would be just so much extra luggage. Both of these runner birds live in Australia.

No matter where they live, nor what their difficulties, the bodies of animals learn marvelously to meet the needs of their lives.

Fort Henry's Gun Story

Has Been Proved Untrue

What once was a good story to tell to visitors in Kingston, Ont., was definitely scotched by the hand of research.

A legend once circulated that the guns of old Fort Henry, built in 1817, point toward their native Canada instead of toward Lake Ontario and the enemy all because of a mistake. This slip-up, so the story went, was made by an English engineer who sent the plans of the fort at Kingston, Jamaica, to Kingston, Ontario, and vice versa. Hence when the fort was built according to plan, the guns were found to have turned traitor, states a writer in the Boston Globe.

Restoration of the fort, while adding to the interest of the landmark, completely destroyed this fiction. Researchers announced that the guns faced inward, not through any error, but because they were placed in reverse fire chambers to rake at attackers caught in the inner moat.

This type of defense is the only one of its kind in America, but its value was never tested. Fort Henry, like the $3,000,000 citadel beside the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec, 370 miles away, was never used because of the lasting peace between the United States and Canada.

Johnny Appleseed a Missionary

For years the story of Johnny Appleseed has lain dormant in many minds. Born John Chapman in 1774, he wandered over the Midwest, especially in Indiana and Ohio, scattering apple seeds wherever he found a fertile spot and returning later to prune the trees into which they grew. Sometimes he acted as missionary, friend and "medicine man" to white settlers and Indian alike, reading the Bible to all who would listen, giving advice and doctoring with simple remedies. His clothes were always of the plainest. History relates that his shirt was generally a coffee sack, his hat often an inverted cooking tin. He took life as he found it, happy in leaving behind him a trail of homely philosophy and flourishing fruit trees.

The British Royal Family

George III of Great Britain had a family of 15 children, including 9 sons and 6 daughters. The sons were George, who became George IV; Frederick, duke of York; William, duke of Clarence, who became William IV; Edward, duke of Kent, father of Queen Victoria; Ernest, duke of Cumberland, afterwards king of Hanover; Augustus, duke of Sussex; Adolphus, duke of Cambridge; Octavius and Alfred, who died in infancy. The daughters were: Charlotte, who married the king of Württemberg; Augusta; Elizabeth, who married the Landgrave of Hesse-Homburg; Mary, who married the duke of Gloucester; Sophia, Amelia.

'Doukhor' a Russian Word

'Doukhor' is a Russian word meaning "spirit-fighter." It was applied by clergy of the Russian Orthodox church to mean that these people were fighting against the spirit of God. The Doukhobors accepted the terms as meaning that they were fighting with the spirit of God. They were given permission to emigrate after Leo Tolstoy, the great Russian author, had interested the English Society of Friends (Quakers) in the sufferings of this people. Persecutions arose under Czar Nicholas II because the Doukhobors had refused to give universal military service.

NOW, WE'RE GONNA DRIVE CAREFULLY

TODAY, AND ENJOY THE TRIP

News By Nose

The good sports are not all among the younger set, it seems. Frank Bromley and John Graham entertained jointly over the week end. The men occupied the Graham cabin at Whippoorwill, while the ladies enjoyed themselves in the Bromley cabin. Mr. Bromley, Dr. Irwin, Neff, Mr. William Thompson and Mr. Morley were the guests at Grahams. Mr. Morley was at one time the purchasing agent for Ford Motors.

Mrs. Morley, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Bromley and Mrs. Whitman were the ladies of the party. We should say gay party for it was all of that, especially on Saturday when Mr. Bromley decided it would be a fine day for a river trip. Mr. and Mrs. Morley, Mrs. Bromley, Mrs. Whitman, Mrs. Thompson and Mr. Bromley started for McMasters bridge in two canoes. They had their lunch with them so just eased along down the AuSable, enjoying the beauties of nature but forgetful of clouds overhead, until the rain reminded them that all is not sunshine. Before they were entirely soaked thru, they managed to crawl under some tables and their canoes. This Mr. Bromley said was fine until the tables began to leak.

Having ordered two cars to meet them around three o'clock, they of course expected to be at the bridge by that time, however, they arrived at five o'clock, very wet, but all smiling.

On Sunday, everyone of the party were quiet and apparently enjoying a peaceful Sabbath, when Frank Bromley became restless; this was nearly five o'clock in the afternoon. He gazed up the river, longingly, and then put the proposition up to his guests, it was nothing less than another river trip. This time Mr. Bromley wanted to haul the party and canoes upstream and float down. I imagine he was very disappointed because he received no backing whatsoever, and was forced to content himself with bridge.

Down the river there has been quite a lot of activity in the building line. The first anyone knew of a brand new cabin in Shaw's park, the lot was bought, cleared, and lumber arriving. Dr. Slattery of Bay City decided one night to build, the next day he built, on the third day the roof was on and on the fourth we saw smoke coming out of the chimney. Never have I seen anything spring up so quickly, unless it was a mushroom. I do not know who the builders are, they are from Bay City.

I notice the Doctor isn't going in for anything fancy, however, just a plain frame cabin, and Mr. Funk of Grayling drove a well outside of the cabin, not a flowing well. Dr. Slattery is evidently just coming up here to enjoy life on the river, without all the fuss and feathers of a city home. Shaw's park is just about filled up, or so it seems. All it lacks now is a grocery store, beer garden and ice cream parlor to make it a real village. Then if someone will put up a gas station we could get along fine; the only things missing would be telephones and the post office, but as nearly everyone out here goes into Grayling nearly every day, I guess we can manage without the above luxuries.

Lucy McDonald has had a houseful again over the week end. She certainly has given a lot of persons a lovely time this summer.

Ned and Pat Wicks also had guests judging by the canoe load Ned was piloting down stream Sunday evening. If one of the crowd had spoken out of turn, or moved a bit too quick, we might have seen some fun!

Jessie and Jim Bailey have returned to Bay City after a stay of over a month in their cabin, and at the very end of their vacation Mr. Bailey's daughter surprised them by announcing her marriage. This was very sudden and, the young chap she married couldn't get away only long enough to be married, the bride ran true to form (because she is an unusual girl and unusually pretty) and came north to spend her honeymoon alone with her father and stepmother. She didn't seem to mind the joking, and simply stated that her husband would have his honeymoon later when he will have his vacation.

CLEVER REPLY

The counsel for the prosecution had encountered a rather difficult witness. Annoyed by the man's evasive answers, he set off on a different tack.

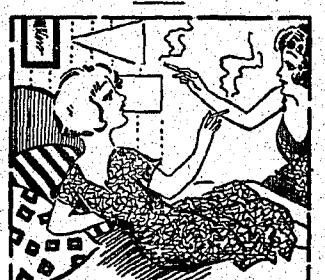

"Now, tell me," he demanded, "are you acquainted with any of the jury?"

"Yes, sir," said the witness cheerfully. "More than half of 'em." "Are you willing to swear," said counsel, amazed, "that you know more than half of them?"

The witness thought for a moment.

"If it comes to that," he announced, "I'm willing to swear I know more than all of 'em put together."—Answers Magazine.
